

ROSETTA
THE LOOK AND FEEL OF NATURE

Give your next project the look and feel of nature with hardscapes from Rosetta! Modeled from world-class natural stone, Rosetta products capture a level of detail that allows landscape architects to create masterpieces, without the hassles of natural stone.

Rosetta is fully engineered and fabricated to exacting specifications, capable of providing a secure and lasting solution. From the elegance of the Outcropping, Belvedere and Dimensional Wall Collections to the sophistication of the Grand Flagstone and Dimensional Flagstone Slab Collections, Rosetta offers complete lines of hardscape products for any application. The Rosetta Step Collection and Coping Collection create design flexibility and options for one-of-a-kind projects.

The true beauty of Rosetta is in the intentional design—which gives Rosetta walls the ability to be fully engineered and installed in half the time or less as compared to equivalent natural stone. Rosetta components feature consistent dimensions to create significant labor and time saving which often adds up to a major cost savings for a project as a whole.
